

NAVAL POSTGRADUATE SCHOOL

Located in Monterey, California, the Naval Postgraduate School is located a short distance from the technology centers of Silicon Valley

The Naval Postgraduate School provides relevant and unique advanced education and research programs to increase the combat effectiveness of commissioned officers of the naval service to enhance the security of the United States. Established in 1909, NPS moved west to Monterey, California in 1951. Today, NPS serves naval, defense, and national security related interests by enhancing current and future readiness, fostering advances in technology, and providing educational and operational programs that directly support all facets of national defense and homeland security.

At NPS, four world-class schools oversee 14 academic departments that offer 77 Master's degrees, 16 doctoral degrees and 60 certificate programs to the U.S. Armed Forces, DoD civilians, and international partners.

Secure research facilities, interdisciplinary academic groups, and 31 research centers add to the wealth of resources. NPS offers both resident and distributed-learning programs. Continuous learning, refresher and transitional educational opportunities abound, and executive education courses and a variety of short courses are also offered by NPS, both in Monterey and abroad.

Over 650 scholars and professionals comprise the NPS faculty. Students and faculty are deeply involved in the development, advancement, and utilization of emerging technologies. For over 25 years, by combining classroom instruction with hands-on experimentation, NPS continues its leadership role in cyber defense and cyber operations.
